Oct. 13 Meeting Termed 'Last Chance' For Valle de Oro Planning Public Input

The County Integrated Planning Office has received a number of calls from Spring Valley vicinity residents about a public hearing Wednesday.

Roger Wright, associate planner with IPO, said post cards notifying all property owners in the Valle de Oro area of the hearing were mailed recently.

The hearing is expected to be the last chance for citizen-at-large input regarding the Valle de Oro Community Plan, destined to become the area's guideline to future planning and growth.

Valle de Oro is the catch word for the geographic area east of San Diego and Lemon Grove, and south of El Cajon. Included are Casa de Oro, Spring Valley, La Presa, Mt. Helix, Horizon Hills and Rancho San Diego.

Apparently, the post card notice informed several residents of that area for the first time that localized community goals and objectives report was being prepared.

"We've gotten many calls from residents wondering 'What is this?' and 'What's going on?'," Wright said.

All callers are urged to attend the hearing.

It is held in the Spring Valley Jr. High auditorium at 3900 Conrad dr., in Casa de Oro, 7:30 p.m., October 13.

Since 1971

The plan has been under study and in preparation since November 3, 1971 when the Valle de Oro Planning Association first met.

On June 14, 1972, an official planning program was authorized by the Board of Supervisors who designated the VdOPA and the official planning group.

The County suspended its affiliation with the Planning Assn. in 1973 and less than two years later appointed a new group, the Valle de Oro Citizens Executive Committee, 25 members of the community and representatives from sixteen community organizations.

VdOPA continued to meet, although the CEC was the body that continued the planning report. Several individuals are members of both groups.

The CEC presented a list of goals and objectives for the community plan in December, 1975 and completed their "Preliminary Valle de Oro Community Plan Report" last month.

Copies are now available at local libraries.

Following the hearing, the report will be prepared for presentation to the County Planning Commission and to the various special districts.

An Environmental Impact Report on the plan is being prepared and is expected to be completed by the end of this year, Wright said.

California state law mandates the preparation of general plans for all areas of the state. Also, County Board of Supervisors Policy I-1 directs the preparation of community subregional plans to refine the county general plan.

More Autos Damaged By Pellet Gun User

The William Tell of the pellet-gun set has raised his total to nearly 100 in the Lemon Grove and Spring Valley areas.

Not apples. Auto windows. Most of them the windows on the drivers' side. In the previous week most of the victims were Spring Valley residents.

These were reported between September 24 and 25 in Lemon Grove:

Corinne Elaine Clark, 4120 Massachusets, Plymouth.

Edward Lee Hedbers, 837 Madera, Chrysler.

Joseph M. Pestcaal, 7156 San Miguel, Pinto.

Susan Stumph, 7917 Lester ave., Dodge.

Carla V. Nash, 3890 Massachusetts, Chrysler.

Peter B. Updczak, 7849 Lansing dr., Firebird.

James E. Lukowski, 2500 Mercury dr., Dodge.

Donna Marie Woods, 4132 Massachusetts, Austin.

In Spring Valley:

O. V. Brandt, 3200 Sweetwater rd., Mercury.

The list isn't complete. Some owners do not report the damage.

Rummage Sale Lifts L.G. CoC From Deficit

It took a lot of work of a handful of dedicated people but the L.G. Chamber of Commerce Outdoor Garage (Rummage) Sale was a success.

The sale, scheduled for Saturday and Sunday on the parking lot of the Southland Music Center at Imperial and Lester, only lasted one day. There wasn't enough merchandise to open Sunday and a large sign was posted: "Sold Out! Sorry!"

The project produced a trifle more than $800 which well covered the CoC deficit of $600, according to Bob Guest, Chamber president.

The fund-raiser was started to make up the deficit created by a horse show that was conducted in north county as part of the Old Time Days annual event.

The OTD committee has agreed that there will not be a repeat of that event next year. Indeed, there would not have been an Old Time Days Parade next year if the Garage Sale had not been successful.

Committee Members

On the sale committee were Emerson Morris, Brenda Coberly, Craig Lake, Glenda Jackson, Leonard Klein, Lou Ann Holaday and Rose Harris.

Merchandise for the sale started pouring into the chamber office at 3415 Imperial a few days before the sale started and auxiliary storage space had to be found.

Members of the committee worked all night getting the merchandise set up for the Saturday sale scheduled to start at 9 a.m. But at 6, buyers started to arrive and the lot was jammed until there was but a handful of items left. These will be distributed to the L.G. Rotary club for their upcoming rummage sale and to Goodwill Industries for the loan of the clothing racks used in the sale.

To those who provided merchandise, the chamber expresses appreciation. It should. It's solvent again!

Seniors' Cards Ready at EPIC

Effective Problem Intervention Center (EPIC) at 3319 Buena Vista ave. in Lemon Grove is now issuing the Golden Gate identification cards to senior citizens.

Those 60 years or older are entitled to ride San Diego Transit buses for 15 cents.

The card also allows seniors to purchase a gold pass to ride the buses for one month.

Jim Morrison of the County office of Senior Citizens Affairs now has an office at EPIC. He will be working in the Lemon Grove-Spring Valley area in the coordination of services for senior citizens.

The telephone at EPIC is 464-3742.

S.V.F.D. Calls Paramedic Meet

Fire Department History Relived As District Readies 'Open House'

By Max Goodwin

There'll be a double celebration Saturday, October 9, at the ol' fire house.

"Ol' " is not an apt description for one of the more modern fire fighting facilities in the east county. The double celebration definition is proper. It tells of the Lemon Grove Fire Protection District's recognition of National Fire Protection Week. It also gives substance to the local agency's 26th anniversary.

Open House will be held on October 9 10 a.m.-4 p.m. on the District's only station—7853 Central, near the Lemon Grove Junior High school. Punch, coffee and cookies will be served to visitors.

There will be a film showing of fire safety; a photographic display of the men at their duties and demonstrations of the "Jaws of Life", a power tool that has already been credited with saving the lives of several area people. It is a power tool that can open a crushed auto without creating sparks that might torch off spilled gasoline.

Bob Holaday, who operates L.G. Motors, is furnishing several wrecked vehicles for demonstration of the "Jaws".

History Told

A brief history of the department should interest those who will attend the Open House. The information was gathered from files and from discussions with those involved at the time.

In 1926 State Forestry was the fire protection in Lemon Grove and the communications system depended on a half-dozen private telephones. La Mesa F.D. would respond when possible.

A sizeable fire could have destroyed the entire town. Grass and brush fires were combatted by citizens using wet gunny sacks.

In 1925 two Lemon Grove houses were completely destroyed. The Apperstill place at Washington and Golden and the Evans place at Corona and Central burned. There were no hydrants near the Evans place. La Mesa F.D. responded and dug down to the wooden water main and water filled the hole. It didn't work. The failure led to the forming of the local fire district.

Chief 'Andy' Anderson

Forestry appointed H. A. Anderson (deceased) as Fire Warden. His job was to notify Forestry and take charge until Forestry arrived.

Late that year the district was formed. Five directors were named (there are now 3) and $600 was donated by residents to meet the first budget. Those contributing $7.50 were entitled to a fire hydrant at their home (a 4" pipe with valve).

A model T Ford fire truck was bought for $600 down. It proved unsuitable and was returned. One replacement was a chemical tank vehicle. Chemicals spilled eating holes in the hoses. A pumper acquired later couldn't make it up local hills and had to be pushed on calls to hilly areas of the community.

Mechanic Alarm

Earl Hollis, Anderson's mechanic, slept in the garage and gave 24-hour fire alarm service. 12 volunteers were paid $2 for each fire.

The 1929 stock market crashed and in 1930-31 there was no money to pay volunteers so Forestry took over the equipment and moved it to the packing house on North ave.

In 1948 the old district was dissolved and a new one formed. The vote: 153 to dissolve; 24 to keep it. Population at the time was about 10,000.

In 1949 Supervisor David W. Bird urged formation of the new district and a budget of $15,000 was set. Named commissioners were A. H. Anderson, Virgil Duea and Channing P. Mason. Mason and Duea resigned in 1950 because of professional demands. The Rev. Morris Mulkey and grocer Harry Monell replaced them. Jeanette Vaughn was named secretary and attorney V. J. Dorman became ex-officio member.

That was the beginning of the organization which protects life and property in Lemon Grove today.

New Park Urged for 10-Acre Bancroft Site

A 10-acre park in Spring Valley is envisioned by three leaders who have contributed substantially to the community's development and character.

The park would be on the east side of Bancroft st. between Lamar and Olive streets —two blocks south of the Spring Valley Chamber of Commerce on Memory lane.

Herb Ketell, of 10014 Cristoball dr., Spring Valley, foresees the proposed park as a "jewel with a lake for swimming, fishing, boating, swans, flamingos, and picnic grounds around it."

Ketell is immediate past president of the S.V. Park and Recreation District which operates a park on Jamacha rd. and a recreation program for all ages of Spring Valley citizens. He was the ramrod in acquiring the park on Jamacha rd.

At the newly planned park Ketell sees "Tennis courts, bowling greens, horseshoe pits, lawns and flowers — a small Cypress Gardens-type of place that would appeal to our citizens and millions of tourists to San Diego."

The water for the lake, he says, would come from the Casa de Oro drainage channel which runs through the property. That would assure the lake water always being fresh, he said. Water runs in the channel year around.

Asks Supervisors

The Rev. Lewis E. Ginn, pastor emeritus of the Bancroft Baptist church on Bancroft at Tyler sts. in a letter to the county board of supervisors urged them to aid in acquiring the land and developing the park. Mr. Ginn has been active in civic and church matters since he first came to the community 21 years ago.

He noted that the property, at 3166 Bancroft dr., is in a well populated area. It is located where it would be more valuable to people than one located in the back country, he said.

Rosary Graham, a charter member and past vice president of the Spring Valley Historical Society, is another sponsor of the Bancroft Park.

GINN HEADS GROUP

Prior to press time the Rev. Louis F. Ginn accepted the chairmanship of a citizens group organized to consider means of acquiring the 10-acre site for a park.

Herb Ketell is vice chairman; Ronna Nash, a purchasing agent, is secretary and Richard Kellog, a mortician, is treasurer.

The group will ask the Valley de Oro Planning Association to make the acquisition a part of its park plans.

She had hoped to connect it to the Bancroft National Historical Site on the Memory Lane property. It is not likely that the Bancroft building can be moved, however, since it has already been given national status.

Small Site

There is no place to park and picnic at the Historical Site, Graham said. But it's close enough that we could use the Bancroft name for identification.

Graham, a Spring Valley resident for 35 years, was chairman of the S.V. Park and Rec. Dist. for two years prior to Ketell's service. She has been president of the S.V. Welfare organization and president of the S.V. Chamber of Commerce for a year and a half. She was also president of Foothills Secondary Council PTA, of the Mt. Miguel PTA and the S.V. Woman's club. A major concern at present is

The DIMMER VIEW

by Max Goodwin

In the Heart of Butz . . .

We shared a good joke with a friend the other day. It was about a Polish travel agency which offered a 15-day cut-rate tour of Europe. The price, $213.

The advertisement claimed it to be an "all expense tour for 11 days and 4 nights."

That does it!

That's put us in the same boat with Former Secretary of Agriculture Earl Butz.

It also puts us in the boat with Jimmy Carter. We have thought of some of the ethnic jokes as pretty funny — deep in our heart. Like Carter, we never quite converted our fantasy to the real McCoy. But on the other hand we never originated a really good joke, either.

All of which can be taken to show that the firing of Earl Butz was a stupid act. We'll bet President Ford, in his little cocktail coterie, has exchanged jokes on women, gays, Catholics, Jews, Swedes, Irish, German (watch out Kissinger), Blacks, Browns, Reds, Christians or other ethnic, religious or geographical groups. Show us any guy who hasn't and we'll show you a guy who is as grim as the president has become. Perhaps even scared with an overlay of grim.

How screwed up this country has become is the fact that a person may conduct his own style of sex relations with a friend in private — but don't tell an ethnic joke.

If Butz is guilty enough to be fired, Carter is guilty enough to be lawfully eliminated from the presidential race.

By the way, did I tell you about Pat and Mike . . . ?

Friendly Bureau's Helping Hand

Bureaucrats want to control even the simplest elements of your life — and use your tax money to do it.

For example, the U.S. Consumer Products Safety Commission (USCPS) earlier this year decided the public didn't have enough sense to use book matches safely.

So USCPS ordered a study and approved standards by which paper matches would have to be enclosed in a childproof box.

Having saved children from burns, USCPS ordered matches to self-extinguish in 15 seconds. Target was the 9,500 persons who were seriously burned by matches last year.

Pipe smokers arose. So did those who use matches to find dropped keys and other necessities in the dark. So did those who believed it was less troublesome to carry a book of matches than a banana-sized flashlight.

After the great outcry arose, sanity returned to USCPS and one commissioner, Barbara Franklin, decided that childproofing book matches would make the closure too cumbersome and agreed that forcing bookmatch users to use two hands to double-twist the childproof book would result in the covers being left open — making it even easier for small children to get to matches.

The controversy is like another bureaucratic "safety device" — the once mandatory seatbelt-buzzer system on autos. The buzzers so unnerved motorists that a massive public outcry caused the dumping of that regulation. But it cost the consumer a lot of money while it was on the books.

To prove that bureaucrats can be blocked, but not stopped, the buzzer-belt people are back with the air bag.

The match people may be back with a flintstone recommendation.

Driver Claims $30,000 Missing From His Auto

More than $30,000 was said to be missing from the car which was towed to a repossession lot in Lemon Grove.

The tale of the unusual loss started in a motel parking lot in downtown San Diego on September 29 when police took possession of a 1976 red Cadillac convertible which a Los Angeles auto dealer wanted back for non-payment.

The driver, a guest of the motel, was arrested at 2:30 a.m. in the motel at 9th and Beech. He was listed as James Dee Anderson, a 35-year old black with a diamond in his pierced ear.

He was released from County jail at 2 p.m. the same day and presented himself later to the storage lot operator to gather his belongings from the Caddy. This time he was driving a 1976 red Chrysler.

Anderson claimed that an attache case and some boxes containing his personal belongings that were there when his car was repossessed, were now missing.

There were no forced entry marks on the car.

He listed as missing $6,000 in cash; diamond ring, $4,600; gold ring, $1,500; ladies watch, $4,600; man's watch $4,600; man's watch, $4,000, diamond ring, $2,200.

Anderson said he is in the real estate business. He had two companions with him.

'Path to Total Awareness' To Lead to Seattle, Wash.

"Eckankar is a great adventure!" exclaims Sri Darwin Gross, the Mahanta, the Living ECK Master and spiritual leader of Eckankar, "the path of total awareness."

Eckankar, "the Great Adventure," can be explored in more detail at the Eckankar 10th World Wide Seminar in Seattle, Washington, October 22-24.

The Great Adventure starts when a follower begins to experience "Soul Travel."

"The purpose of Soul Travel is to reach God, or that state of religious awareness which many saints and holy men were reported to have reached. The results service mankind and help build a more positive civilization," said Gross.

"Soul Travel," he continues, "will provide the student with freedom on every plane in the vast worlds of God. There is a vast difference between astral projection and Soul Travel. Soul Travel gives the student Self-Realization and God-Realization."

"The goal of the followers in Eckankar," Sri Darwin states, "is spiritual liberation within this lifetime, the realization of Self and God, and the preservation of the individual throughout eternity. The essential nature of Eckankar is freedom from all things — the complete independence of Soul."

Fluid Tap Now Signals Fetus Abnormalities

Tests now available to pregnant women can determine, months before birth, whether the fetus has genetic defects.

The process, called amniocentesis, taps the amniotic fluid in a mother's uterus by means of a hollow needle. Analysis of the fluid, which contains genetic material from the fetus, can show whether the embryo is normal.

A current California Medical Association publication, "Health Tips," points out that if serious congenital disorders are noted, parents can decide whether pregnancy should be terminated.

The test is particularly useful to young women who know that they or their husband carry a genetic abnormality and to women over 35, who are higher-than-average risks of having babies with Down's syndrome, popularly called mongolism.

Amniocentesis usually is performed during the fourteenth to sixteenth week of pregnancy. The publication says the procedure causes little discomfort, with a slight risk — less than one per cent — of such complications as infection, abortion or excessive bleeding.

"Amniocentesis," says the article, "is an important development that can result in fewer infants born dead and fewer dying during the first weeks after birth."

Toll-Free Complaint Center Takes Mobilehome Complaints

Mobilehome owners plagued by leaky roofs, faulty plumbing, a dealer's unhonored warranty or deceptive advertising, now have someplace to turn — toll-free.

Motor Vehicles Director Herman Sillas announced the opening of a Mobilehome Complaint Center where consumers can call toll-free 1-800-952-5275.

Center telephone lines are open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday, with personnel to answer calls in English, Spanish, or Japanese.

"Buying a mobilehome is a big investment, with new model prices ranging from $8,000 to $40,000, depending on size. Last year DMV registered 375,000 of these vehicles," Sillas said. "These consumers need the protection provided by DMV through the Mobilehome Complaint Center."

Established jointly by Motor Vehicles and the Department of Housing and Community Development, the complaint center is located in DMV's Division of Compliance Sacramento headquarters.

The new consumer protection unit has handled some 500 telephone calls and received about 100 written complaints since opening on July 1.

Compliance Chief John Holmes explained that, while DMV has handled mobilehome complaints previously as part of its regular vehicle consumer protection job, so has the Department of Housing and several other government agencies.

"Lack of coordinated effort has really hampered effective mobilehome owner protection in the past," Holmes said. "The new Mobilehome Complaint Center is designed to change that for the better."

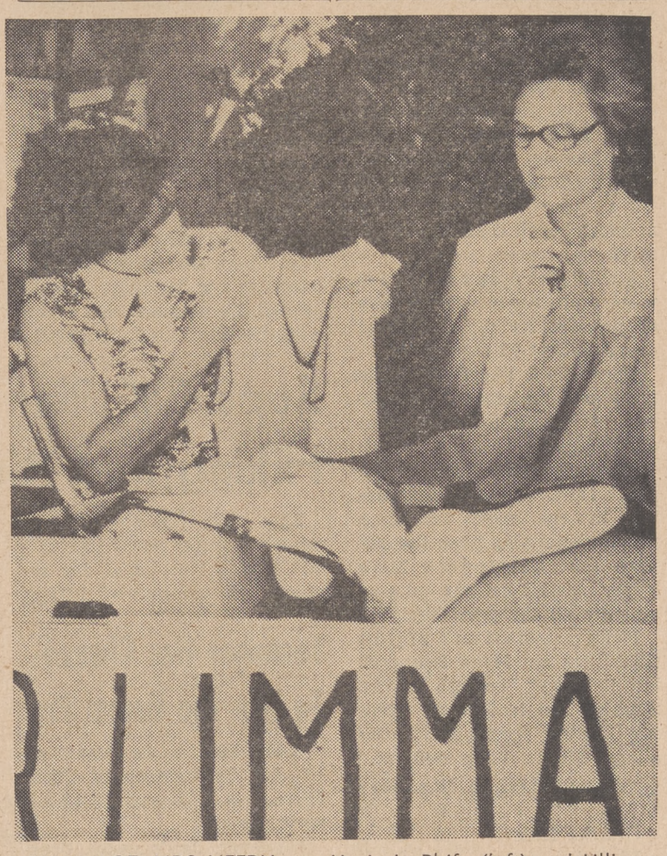

Holmes advises mobilehome owners to try to resolve their complaints with the dealer before calling the complaint center.

He said complaints received at the center will be screened, dealers and manufacturers contacted, with all follow-up investigation by local, state or federal agencies coordinated by center staff.

According to codirector Hackney, much of the center's consumer-protection muscle comes from the federally enacted National Mobilehome Construction Safety Standards Act of 1974.

Known as Title VI, the act became effective June 15 and established tough construction requirements for mobilehomes built in the United States after that date.

The center will handle complaints involving Health and Safety Code defects, mobilehome warranties, registration problems, sales contracts, advertising, and escrow transactions.

Revived Mariners Meet Stingers

Hockey Season Opens Saturday!

The San Diego Mariners, reincarnated and glorified, will open the World Hockey Association season at the S.D. Sports Arena at 7 p.m. Saturday.

The Mariners will host the Cincinnati Stingers, a lively crew, with the ability to humble the San Diegans. They beat the Mariners every game (3) in the Queen City last season.

Following the opener, the Mariners will traipse to Quebec for a Tuesday game, then on to Minnesota for a Friday game before returning for a two-game home-stand October 16 and 17.

Hockey appeared to be a dead sport in San Diego when ownership could not be found for a local franchise that was defaulted late last season. Then, in mid-August, Ray Kroc, chairman of the board of the worldwide McDonald's Restaurant Corporation and owner of the National Baseball League San Diego Padres, stepped in and obtained rights to the Mariner operation.

In a frenzied eight-week period since that time, coach Ron Ingram has reassembled a roster that now includes the best of last year's skaters plus a strong group of newcomers. Pre-season indications are that San Diego could have the finest goaltending tandem and one of the stoutest defenses in the WHA.

Back from last season are center Andre LaCroix, all-time league scoring leader, 37-goal producer Norm Ferguson, second all-league defender Kevin Morrison and goalie Ernie Wakely.

New Faces

The new faces include Paul Shmyr, rated the WHA's best defenseman last season and a three-time all-league pick, and defenseman Gregg Boddy and goalie Ken Lockett from Vancouver of the National League.

Flanking Lacroix will be returnee Wayne Rivers and Gary Veneruzzo, the latter obtained from Phoenix. The second line has rookie Brad Rhiness centering veterans John French and Ferguson while Joe Noris directs Kevin Devine and Gerry Pinder, the latter acquired along with Shmyr in an off-season trade with Minnesota (Cleveland).

In addition to Morrison, Shmyr and Boddy on defense, Ingram can look to Brent Hughes, named San Diego's top blue liner in 1975-76, and veteran Bob Falkenberg.

Cincinnati coach Terry Slater has a roster that averages 23 years of age, youngest in the WHA. Heading the Stingers are captain and left winger Rick Dudley, a 43-goal scorer last year and center Jacques Locas, coming from a 73-point term.

San Diego began its pre-season training camp with 29 players, has dropped six, and must lop five more by the opener to reach the league limit of 16 skaters and two goalies. The Mariners last week sent rookies winger Archie King to Binghamton of the North American League and cut winger Jim Stanfield and defenseman Per Karlsson.

West Division

Ingram's squad will compete in the Western sector of the WHA's two-division setup. Included in the West with San Diego are defending league champion Winnipeg, 1973-74 and '74-75 champ Houston, Phoenix, Calgary and Edmonton.

The Eastern Division has Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Minnesota, New England, Quebec and Birmingham.

The Mariners play an 80-game schedule with 40 set for the 13,029-seat Sports Arena and 40 on opposition ice. In their division, San Diego plays five home and five away with both Phoenix and Houston and four home and four away with Calgary, Edmonton and Winnipeg. Competing against the six East clubs, they will play each on a three and three basis.

The Mariners were third in their division last year after a second place finish in 1974-75. They have advanced to the second round of playoff action both seasons.

All San Diego games this season will be broadcast over KOGO (60) radio with Ron Oakes at the microphone.

Baja 1000 Drawing Set For 3 O'Clock Saturday

The Baja will be run November 11-13 starting from Ensenada and returning there with nearly $250,000 up for grabs.

The Saturday Kick Off Party is open to the public with free beer and peanuts, free T-shirts, race movies, and door prizes. A live dance band is also scheduled.

The Baja 1,000 is sponsored by SCORE International, a publication dedicated to off-road enthusiasts.

Scheduled to take part in the drawing Saturday will be Parnelli Jones, Mickey Thompson, Rick Mears, Mal Smith and others.

Tougher Fight Rules in WHA

Mariner fans will note a change in the play when the season opens at the San Diego Sports Arena Saturday.

There won't be as many players dressed as there were last season. Rosters have been reduced from 20 to 18. The team may suit as many as 16 skaters and two goaltenders but not less than 15 skaters and two goaltenders.

Teams have always switched ends each period. That continues. Now it includes an additional switch at the 10 minute mark of the third period. Periods are 20 minutes.

Fights

And fights. It makes pussycats out of most players.

If a fight starts all other players must go to their respective nets. Any player dropping a glove gets a 10-minute misconduct penalty. A delay in going to the net draws a two-minute penalty for delay of game.

The instigator of a fight draws a two-minute time penalty plus a five minute major penalty. The other participants draw five minutes major penalty.

The first player to intercede (third man in) draws a double minor (two plus two minutes), a game misconduct penalty plus a $500 fine. In addition, the coach also draws a $500 fine.

Any player incurring a penalty and who does not proceed immediately to the penalty box, or who disputes the penalty in any manner while enroute to the penalty box, shall draw an additional minor penalty. Also, any player who disputes the penalty in any manner shall receive a minor penalty.

Mean, Mad, Menacing? It won't pay this season.

Monarchs Edge Helix, Matadors Beat Val. In G'mont League Play

The Mt. Miguel Matadors won their second straight game to improve their Grossmont League record to 2-1 Friday night with a 15-9 triumph over Valhalla. The Matadors allowed just 67 yards rushing on 27 attempts and held the league's leading rusher, Paul Esquibel to eight yards on seven carries.

Mt. Miguel running back Gregg Cole led the Matador offense with 92 yards on 19 carries but the other running back, Keith Morgan was the hero. Morgan, a junior, scored two touchdowns and passed for a two point conversion to account for all the Matador offense.

Mt. Miguel draws a bye this week and thus has two weeks to prepare for an important clash against El Cajon.

The Monte Vista Monarchs remained undefeated in league play with a 7-3 triumph over Helix.

The only touchdown of the game came with 8:45 remaining in the first half on a fourth down play from the one yard line. Quarterback Dave Toper scored on the plunge and the single score held up.

Helix connected on a 27-yard field goal by Hans Schrandt but it wasn't enough as the Scotties had trouble all evening trying figuring out the stingy Monte Vista defense.

McIntyre Takes Speedway Crown

Pat McIntyre, the Spring Valley building inspector, is King of the Superstocks at the Cajon Speedway for the fourth time.

Saturday night he scrambled to keep the leadership although pressed strongly by 21-year-old Ron Esau who came from way back late in the season to challenge for the crown.

Esau won the main event again Saturday night but didn't garner enough points to pass the 34-year old Spring Valleyite.

Pat McIntyre

There was a mere 80 points separating the two. Larry Pemberton of Lemon Grove was third, 145 points behind the winner.

Another Lemon Grove racer, Gary Beecroft, finished fourth.

McIntyre is 4th on the all-time list of winners with 27.

Sprints Return

Saturday night sprints return to the 3/8-mile oval with some of the nation's finest sprint car pilots in the 30-lap finale.

Qualifying starts at 6:30 and the trophy dash will be given the green flag at 8.

There will be three more races at Cajon after the sprint show. Super stocks return for a 100-lap open competition on October 16. On the 19th J. C. Agajanian has carded U.S. Auto Club sprint drivers. These include some who will race Indy on November 14.

Parker Replaces Suwara As Breakers Player-Coach

Dodge Parker, IVA's most valuable player, is the Breakers player-coach for 1977.

Parker is a 5-time USVBA All-American and a member of 4 U. S. National teams. He has run the offense for two IVA championship teams — the L.A. Stars in '75 and the Breakers in '76.

He succeeds Rudy Suwara, the man who led the team into the championship title for San Diego. Suwara gave up the post to become San Diego State's head volleyball coach for both men's and women's volleyball team — a full-time obligation.

"I've always wanted to be a player coach and I'm really excited about the opportunity of coaching the Breakers," Parker said. He was assistant coach with the Stars and the Breakers.

Defense is one of Parker's specialities . He led the IVA last season in saving digs, and helped promote an almost flawless communication between the backcourt defenders, Rose Wegrich and Robin Irvin.

Recruiting new talent is also on Parker's list of priorities, as an expansion draft this winter may take some Breakers.

"With this being the end of an Olympic year, there's a lot of foreign talent available, especially from Brazil, Mexico, S. Korea and some great Canadian women.

The brilliant Brazilian, Luis Eymard, who should be fully recovered from his shoulder injury, will be back next season.

Sups OK Plan for More Hiking and Riding Trails

The San Diego County Board of Supervisors has voted that private land for regional or community hiking and riding trails should be acquired by purchase, donation, or dedication.

According to the Board, the newly adopted portion of the Recreation Element of the County's General Plan proposing a countywide network of trails does not propose the use of eminent domain as a means of acquiring land.

The Board will appoint a new ten member committee composed of property owners and people interested in the trails to deal with the problem of how to acquire the right of way for the network of trails. The committee will be directed to look into all possibilities including land donations, purchase, and the use of eminent domain.

The plan adopted by the Board is the result of a two year study by a citizens' committee and the Integrated Planning Office.

The plan provides for dirt paths to be built in 1/2 mile "corridors" for use by hikers and horseback riders. Off road vehicles and motorcycles would not be allowed on the paths. When the system is complete, hikers and riders would be able to tour the county's beaches, deserts and mountains from paths. Support facilities such as campsites were also suggested in the plan.

At the present there are 600 miles of public trails in the county. The County will also work in cooperation with existing state and federal trails in the area.

The trail network as proposed, would require considerable acquisition of private land, Suggestions on how to acquire this land will be brought before the Board by the new committee.

Teenager Has Chance To Win the Camel Pro

GARDENA — At the age of 19, Jay Springsteen of Flint, Mich., is "younger than springtime."

However, Jay's youth doesn't dim his chances to become the winner of the Camel Pro series and the American Motorcycle Assn. Grand National champion when he appears at J. C. Agajanian's Ascot for the 20-lap half-mile and 1976 AMA finale, Saturday night at 8 p.m.

At the moment Springsteen is on a spree of three straight dirt-track national wins in the Syracuse mile, Toledo half-mile, and San Jose mile.

Should he make Ascot his fourth straight, he'll accomplish two unprecedented feats. He'll become the first out-of-state rider ever to win an Ascot national in this 18th annual presentation. Secondly, he'll be the first AMA performer to take four consecutive dirt-track nationals.

The latter mark is held jointly by Joe Leonard in 1954 and Gary Scott in 1974.

Before the distribution of $60,000 in Camel prize money Saturday, the experts will ride in the Golden West TT tomorrow night, and novices and juniors will engage in the Golden West Invitational on the Ascot half-mile the same evening.

USD's Slimak Noted

Miller Brewing Co. has chosen USD's Andy Slimak as Calif. College Player of the Week for his exploits in the Toreros 30-30 tie with USIU.

Slimak, 6-3, 19-pound junior quarterback turned in a remarkable afternoon going 19 of 27 passes for 342 yards and 3 touchdowns of 41, 12 and 21 yards.

He is the first College Division player to win the award. Previous winners of the award are State's David Turner, and linebacker Aaron Ball of Cal State Fullerton.

U.S. Pro Stock Championships

Current Winston World Championship Pro Stock point leaders Bill "Grumpy" Jenkins and Larry Lombardo of Malvern, PA, walked off with top honors at Orange County International Raceway in the U. S. Pro Stock Championships.

Car owner Jenkins and driver Lombardo combined to set a new track record of 8.66 seconds in the semi finals to defeat Sonny Bryant of Orange. Lombardo then went on to clock 8.70 seconds at 156.79 mph in his Chevy Monza to defeat Wally Booth of Berkley, Mich. in the final.

In the "Run What Ya Brung" Match Race Pro Stocks, Bob Riffle of Columbus, Ohio set low elasped time at 8.21 seconds and also top speed of the meet with 168.85 mph.

The final major event of the year at OCIR will be the 10th annual NAPA/Regal Ride United States Manufacturers Funny Car Championship October 29-30.

Hole-in-Ones Offer Big Tourney Prizes

$5,000 from Bank Americard for a hole-in-one on number nine green and a year's lease on a 1976 Mercury Monarch awarded by Pascal Dilday for a hole-in-one on green number 17 top the list of prizes scheduled for the 1976 Sharp Hospital Invitational Golf Tournament, according to Randy Moore, General Chairman for the tournament.

144 golfers with established handicaps have made donations of $11 each and began play today at 12:30 at the Whispering Palms Country Club on a shotgun start. The tournament, as did a previous one, has a full field of players.

Proceeds from the tournament will be used to purchase a patient van for the Sharp Rehabilitation Center, the only full accredited regional comprehensive rehabilitation center serving San Diego and Imperial counties.

Last year, $10,000 was raised by the golf tournament to purchase fetal monitoring equipment for the Sharp Hospital "Stork Club." The equipment is used particularly with high risk maternity delivery cases.

Chargers Sell Out for Raiders Game Sunday

The bouncing Chargers return home Sunday but some fans will be disappointed. They will not be able to get tickets. There were less than 1,000 seats available Wednesday morning.

The bouncing bit? That's a way to describe the Chargers. From championship play in the first three games to patsies at Denver. It is likely that they'll get off the mile-high floor of Denver and storm into a heady win over the Raiders Sunday. The Chargers have too much talent to write off. The Raiders have too many injured to be invincible.

Bomb Squad

Ken Stabler will be there, though. Around the track they describe Stabler and his wide receivers Fred Biletnikoff and Cliff Branch as the Bomb Squad.

Add to that trio Dave Casper. He is a 6-4, 228-pound, three year veteran from Notre Dame who is top receiver in the NFL. Casper has caught 25 passes for 332 yards, a 13.3 average and three touchdowns. Against New England Sunday he caught 12, one shy of Mike Ditka's NFL record, and had 10 catches in the first half.

Bruised and Limping

If coaching can help, the Chargers will have its offensive prowess restored Sunday. The jolting they got in the 20-0 mismatch may do much to get their feet on the ground. John Lee, Chargers right end, said he'd be ready. He missed a couple of tackles at Denver because his fingers were too bruised to allow him to close his hands around the opponent. Other walking-wounded gladiators may be returning to toughen up both the offense as well as the defense.

Head Coach Tommy Prothro isn't dejected about the loss.

Faith Remains

"Before the season I would have been very happy to be 3-1 now," said Prothro. "I haven't lost any faith in this team."

San Diego will attack Oakland with its outstanding passing combination of Dan Fouts to Charlie Joiner. Fouts ranks No. 2 among AFC passers with a 61.7 completion percentage, 760 yards, six touchdowns and two interceptions. Joiner is fourth in AFC receiving with 17 catches, 357 yards, a 21.0 average and two touchdowns.

Favored to win their fifth consecutive AFC West title, the Raiders of coach John Madden were upset by New England, 48-17, last week. Previously, they beat Pittsburgh, 31-28; Kansas City, 24-21, and Houston 14-13.

For those fans who couldn't get tickets, the game isn't too bad electronically. A growing number are watching the game on teevee and listening to the radio voices of Hope Hines and Tommy Mason on KSDO.

Kick off is 1:06 p.m.

Next week is Alumni Day with Bum Phillips and his strong Houston Oilers invading the Stadium.

Good tip: Get tickets early.

Buses for Grid Games

San Diego Transit will provide bus service to football games at the S.D. Stadium.

Service will start for Chargers games on Sundays at 11:30 a.m. for Sunday's game against the Oakland Raiders and on October 17 for the Houston Oilers. Both games start at 1 p.m.

For Aztec Saturday night games on October 16 and 23 service will begin at 6 p.m. for U. of Pacific and Fullerton. Those games begin at 7:30 p.m.

Locally, buses leave at College Grove. Fare is 50 cents.

Wild Bunch Wins

Wild Bunch, the S.V. Park & Rec. Coed Softball League team which was undefeated in the 8-game season, went on to win the championship in the post season tournament by defeating Bats & Balls 3-2. Turkeys were 3rd.

Final standings:

Wild Bunch	8-0
Ball-Bats	6-2
Turkeys	4-4
Bears	1-7
Weasels	1-7

Another Coed League starts after Thanksgiving, Willie Williams, SVP&R director said.

March of Dimes Benefits From Women's Golf Tourney

More than a dozen San Diego County golf courses will take part in San Diego-Imperial Chapter March of Dimes tourneys during the month of October, it was announced.

Several women's club leaders offered their support in the fund-raising affairs to acquire money in the fight against birth defects.

Already committeed are the women's clubs of Rancho Bernardo, Chula Vista Municipal, Whispering Palms, San Vicente, Bonita, Cottonwood, Balboa, La Costa, Tecolote, Stardust and Torrey Pines. Others, both men's and women's clubs, are expected to join in the competition.

Individual trophies will be awarded for low scores for men and women at each club participating. Entry fee is $1.

TAKE FIVE

By John E. Wirges

As you struggle through your employment today, say a little prayer for Randy Jones. He's facing the toughest line-up of his life these days in the orthopedic league and lives with the troublesome knowledge that his career is on the line.

Randy's strength and competitive spirit led to his perplexing predicament. He ripped a bicep tendon throwing a slider to Cesar Geronimo in the second-last home game of the year. And the damage could knock him out of the box for good.

Randy underwent surgery on the injury under the talented hands of Dr. Frank Jobe and Dr. Robert Kerlan, both noted repairmen in the world of Sports Medicine.

One gets an indication of the high regard in which Padre president Buzzie Bavasi holds Dr. Kerlan by looking at the Padre Press Guild.

Dr. Kerlan serves on the Padre Board of Directors. Even in the operating room Buzzie touches all bases.

It seems strange to report, but Randy was rather expecting something like his tendon tear and was semi-pleased when it happened.

Anybody who was in the ball park at the time remembers the incident. It was Tuesday, Sept. 28th in Cincinnati's half of the second inning.

Randy's rip was accompanied by Mike Ivie's ejection from the game by rookie umpire Ed Montague.

The Padres were leading 3-1 at the time and Jones opened the second inning with a walk to Bob Bailey. Bill Plummer bounced to the mound and Jones threw to second on what seemed a perfect double play ball, but rookie shortstop Bill Almon and rookie second baseman Mike Champion each waited for the other to cover the bag and Randy's throw sailed into center field.

Geronimo came up and Randy set him up with a slider.

"I heard my arm pop," reported Jones in going over the inning with reporters after the game. "And I felt pain. The arm had been bothering me for about 3 weeks. I could feel the muscle getting tighter and tighter. Finely it just popped."

Jones is a fighter of the old school and he doesn't give up without some argument and scrapping.

"I tried a couple of sinkers (supposingly a pitch easier on the arm) on Geronimo, but I felt just as much pain with them and thought it would be a foolish thing to continue," he explained.

Geronimo bounced to Almon at short and forced Plummer, but he beat the relay at first and Ivie got a quick thumb from Montague when he protested the rookie arbiters' call.

During the cheek to jowl discussion Padre manager John McNamara had with Montague, Jones had time to try a few throws and confirm his judgment. He came out of the game.

"I didn't want to come out," he told Cincinnati pitcher Jack Billingham, who came to the Padre dressing room after the game to inquire after Randy's condition.

"Hey, I had a 3-1 lead," laughed Randy. Are you crazy? I really didn't want to come out."

At first it was thought the injury was just a muscle tear. Something that could almost be expected after 315 1/3 innings.

"I'm glad it wasn't the elbow," Randy said at the time. "I've had elbow trouble in high school and college, but it's too strong now. The muscle gave way instead. And that's good. That's very good."

Except it wasn't a muscle, it was a ripped tendon and that's not so good. It doesn't heal all by itself. That's why Drs. Jobe and Kerlan have employed their considerable skills. The damage must be repaired.

And painful therapy must follow. Randy's arm will be in a splint for a month or so, then another month of complete rest and by mid-December he'll be out throwing easy.

By March, with a little bit of luck, he figures to be back to full speed, somewhere in the 27 mile an hour class. But the test is yet to come.

Randy is a prime candidate for the CY YOUNG award. He deserves it and has our best wishes. But right now he needs more. He needs our prayers, too.

Steel Cage Imprisons Wrestlers

The Battle of the Steel Cage is the featured attraction Tuesday on the Coliseum professional wrestling card.

Chavo Guerrero will meet the Hangman inside an 8-foot topless steel cage. It'll be wrestling in reverse because the man who reaches the floor outside the cage is the winner.

A Hell's Kitchen match with no disqualification permitted and hands taped like prize fighters will pit Don Fonzo Fargo against the Super Scorpion.

A tag-team match teams Ken Mantel, The Butcher and the Mata brothers against opponents to be named later.

Another match, also yet to be chosen will round out the card.

$1 discount is allowed seniors and youngsters.

The Coliseum is at 15th and E. st. in San Diego. Action starts at 7:30 p.m.

Swine Flu Shots Start October 23

The County Board of Supervisors have given its final OK to Health Department plans for a massive swine flu immunization program this fall. The plans call for mass clinics to be held throughout the county, beginning on Saturday, October 23 and continuing through Sunday, November 7.

"All persons 18 years of age and over will be eligible to be immunized at no charge, according to Dr. John R. Philp, director of public health. "We will not know until late this month or early October if we will be able to immunize youngsters under 18. This decision will be based on results of testing currently being conducted."

The immunization program will place special emphasis on reaching persons 60 years of age and over and on persons of any age with a chronic disease because these groups are most vulnerable to influenza and its complications.

Dr. Philp said county residents will be told locations and dates of the mass clinics nearest their home through an extensive publicity campaign to be launched later this month, including a telephone service they may call for specific details.

The vaccine will also be available to selected groups through some public and private organizations, such as hospitals, industries and community clinics, and physicians in private practice who wish to provide it.

'Born Loser' Earns Cop Fame

Sheriff's detective John Falconer claims he has located the "born loser."

He was assigned to a complaint of a stolen CB (citizens band) radio. A witness recognized the suspect from pictures the police had on file. The suspect was arrested.

A few days later Falconer was assigned a similar case—a CB radio stolen from a car. There were good finger prints in the vehicle. The prints were run through identification, and whose were they? They belonged to the suspect who was awaiting trial for the first burglary. Falconer was gaining fame as a CB crime solver.

Not many days later, after those two thefts were on their way to resolution, Falconer was put on another stolen CB case.

As soon as he opened the door of the car from which the third CB radio was taken he spied a card dropped nearly out of view under the driver's seat. It was a union card. Who was it assigned to? The same guy who was charged with the other thefts!

That, any way you look at it, makes the guy a born loser!

Juvenile Suspects in CB Radio Theft Here

A teen-age youngster asked Ethel B. Clark if he might listen to her CB radio in her car parked at the VFW Hall at 2885 Imperial ave., in Lemon Grove the evening of September 22.

Clark, who lives at 9228 Vista dr., Spring Valley, gave her permission. Later, returning to her car she discovered the Realistic Pro 4 scanner CB was gone.

She gave sheriff's deputies a description and a partial name of the suspect.

Tax Break Offered to Needy S.D. Homeowners

Persons receiving public assistance are now eligible to apply for 80 per cent of the Homeowners' Property tax exemption, E. C. Williams, San Diego County Assessor said.

The exception was made possible by the passage of Assembly Bill 2972.

Since the inception of the Homeowners' Exemption in 1968, homeowners who receive Aid to the Potentially Self-Supporting Blind (APSB), Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC), General Assistance (GA), and recipients of the gold-colored check from the U. S. Treasurer marked "State Payments Included," have been excluded from receiving this property tax relief. Those qualifying for the full exemption receive a deduction of $1,750 assessed value from their property tax bill.

To qualify for the 80 per cent exemption ($1,400 assessed value) for the 1976-77 year, those now receiving welfare assistance are urged to file a Homeowners' Exemption claim form with the County Assessor's Office before 5 p.m., December 1, 1976.

Williams points out that this exemption applies to people who owned and occupied their property on March 1, 1976.

Claim forms are not mailed automatically, but are available at the Assessor's office in the County Administration Center, 1600 Pacific Highway in San Diego. Phones are 236-3072 or 233-5451.

CALPIRG Raps PacTel on No Recycling

Sheredding has started on over two tons of phone books collected in the California Public Interest Research Group's (CALPIRG) "Operation Save the Phone Books." The CALPIRG and San Diego Ecology Centre is already under way.

Individual phone calls to both organizations have averaged over 50 calls (236-1509) a day since the operation was announced in the media. Molly Jean Featheringill, executive director of the San Diego Ecology Centre, said that the excellent public response to recycling the telephone books shows citizen concern for the recycling of solid waste.

It also points out, she said, the need for the Pacific Telephone Co. to organize the procedure for recycling all the used phone books when the 1977 edition is distributed.

CALPIRG co-directors Claire Lipschultz and Miles Friedon said that as an organization concerned with corporate responsibility to the citizens, CALPIRG believes that PacTel was irresponsible in not arranging for a recycling program prior to distributing the new phone books.

750,000 plus phone books in San Diego County represent over 1800 tons of paper. It takes an average of 17 trees to produce a ton, it was noted.

Charges Sign Deceit

Dear Editor,

While viewing the pictorial attack and subsequent letter to the editor your paper printed on the posters of school board candidates Keegan and Pennell I realized how easily something can be made out of nothing.

Political posters have been an american (sic) tradition since the birth of this country Could there have been something other than just the deploring of litter to provoke this unwarranted attack on only these two candidates?

Sincerely
Royal P. Nelson

Editor's Note:

Because they were the only ones with signs up, they were the only lawbreakers.

It should also be noted that here in America we capitalize the name of our country.

This letter is being published in spite of an obviously fictitious signature.

Signs are Legal

Dear Editor:

At the expense of continuing the "sign controversy", I wish your readers to know that it is legal to place election posters on some public property. San Diego County Board Policy J-5 allows election posters to be placed, with certain limitations, on County road right-of-way areas. A permit must be obtained and a fee paid prior to erecting the signs.

All "Pennell For School Board" signs now up are legal and covered by a valid county permit. I hope the citizens of Lemon Grove and School Board candidates respect these legal signs by not removing them.

14-Year Old Driver Lands In Jamul Ditch

It was late at night.

Sheriff's deputies patrolling the Jamul area did a double take when they saw three youngsters lying near a ditch 100 yards west of Jamul on Hywy. 94. Nearby, in a ditch, a van was tilted to one side.

At first it looked like a tragedy with injured children strewn about.

Investigation soon proved that assumption wrong. They were juveniles, all right. Two were 14; another 15.

The van had been stolen from Spring Valley in the 3700 block of Kenora. It belonged to K. H. Mader of Lakeside.

The youngsters, all of whom live in Spring Valley are accused of car theft. Evidence indicated that the van was left out at night with keys in it. These lads, and others, "borrowed" the car to enjoy themselves joy riding late at night with a 14-year old driver at the wheel.

The van was always returned, and after a few days ,when the owner put more gasoline in, they would take it again.

On the night of September 23, when they were caught, the vehicle ran out of gas. When the juveniles starting pushing it, it got out of control and ran into a ditch. When the cops neared, they lay in the weeds hoping to escape detection.

The youngsters were referred to the probation department for action.

Cops after contacting the owner suggested that he lock his car.

Topless Dancer is Also Licenseless

Patricia Murphy, 31, a dancer at the Inn Spot Bar, 8290 Broadway, Lemon Grove, was cited Thursday when she couldn't produce an entertainers' license.

Murphy was performing her art, topless, for some 50 customers near midnight, when a sheriff's deputy made his bar check, it was reported. Neither Murphy, who lives at 10431 Del Rio rd., Spring Valley, nor the bar operator, Jerry Eugene Hilton, could locate the license as required by county ordinance.

The Lemon Grove Kiwanis Club will launch its 22nd annual apple sale this month, one of the organization's major sources of charity revenue.

The sale starts Wednesday, October 20 at 1 p.m. and continues through Saturday, October 23 with Thursday, Friday and Saturday hours of 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Each year the Kiwanis club ships a truck load of Washington Extra Fancy Delicious apples into the community as a fundraising effort.

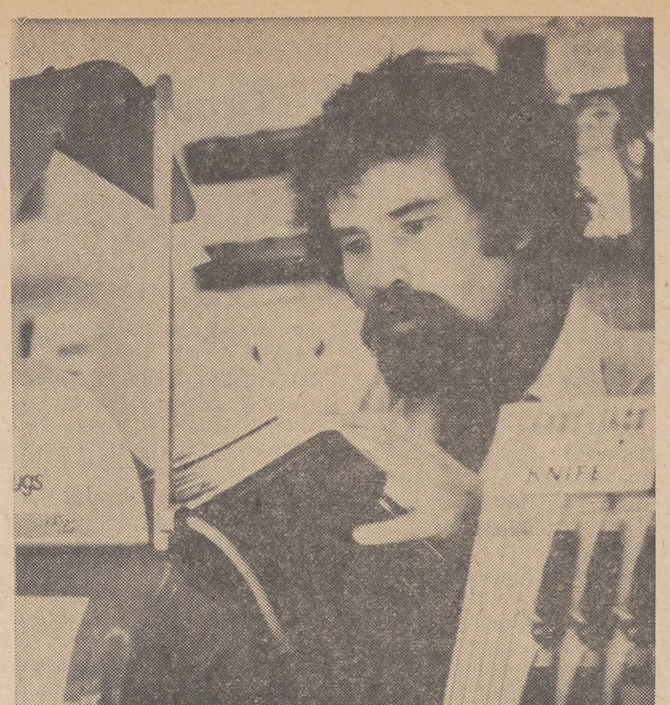

The large, select, eating apples go on sale by the case, half case and quarter case at prices of $12, $6 and $3 respectively. Some local businesses buy a case and sell apples individually.

"Inflation has not affected the prices," said Kiwanian Woody Mott, Prices are the same as last year's.

The apples will be on sale at the corner of Central and Imperial avenues in the parking lot between Bank of America and McDermott's Texaco station.

Purchases may be at the site or ordered from any Lemon Grove Kiwanian or Mt. Miguel Key Club member.

Proceeds help the Kiwanis Club's services to children and senior citizens.

AUTO PARTS — Lou Lavorin checks the catalog for a customer at Total Performance Auto Supply, a new auto parts outlet at 2805 Imperial ave., Lemon Grove. Lavorin opened the supply store in September. He features new and exchange, high performance and foreign parts.

'Fat' Cut from Guardsmen's Vocabulary

Beginning now, "fat" is a dirty word for California's' 26,000 National Guardsmen. Their commander, Major General Frank J. Schober, Jr., has declared war on obesity, and called on every man and woman in the organization to shape up by slimming down.

"The well-fed look is out," declared the 42-year-old Guard Chief, who came to his present post 14 months ago after 19 years as an officer in the United States Army.

"Plump will no longer be pleasing in uniform," added the general.

Lou Rawls Due Here

Grammy award-winning vocalist Lou Rawls, whose current hit single "You'll Never Find Another Love Like Mine" currently is riding the popularity charts, comes to Golden Hall in the Convention and Performing Arts Center October 23 for an 8:30 p.m. concert.

The Chicago-born Rawls has produced 36 albums at the age of 36, won his Grammy in 1972 as "Best male vocal performance of rhythm and blues." He also lays claim to three gold record albums, "Tobacco Road," "Dead End Street" and "Natural Man." Each of these exceeded $1 million in sales.

After a near-fatal automobile accident in 1958, Rawls recovered to the point where a year later he had moved back to Los Angeles and made an appearance with Dick Clark at a Hollywood Bowl Show.

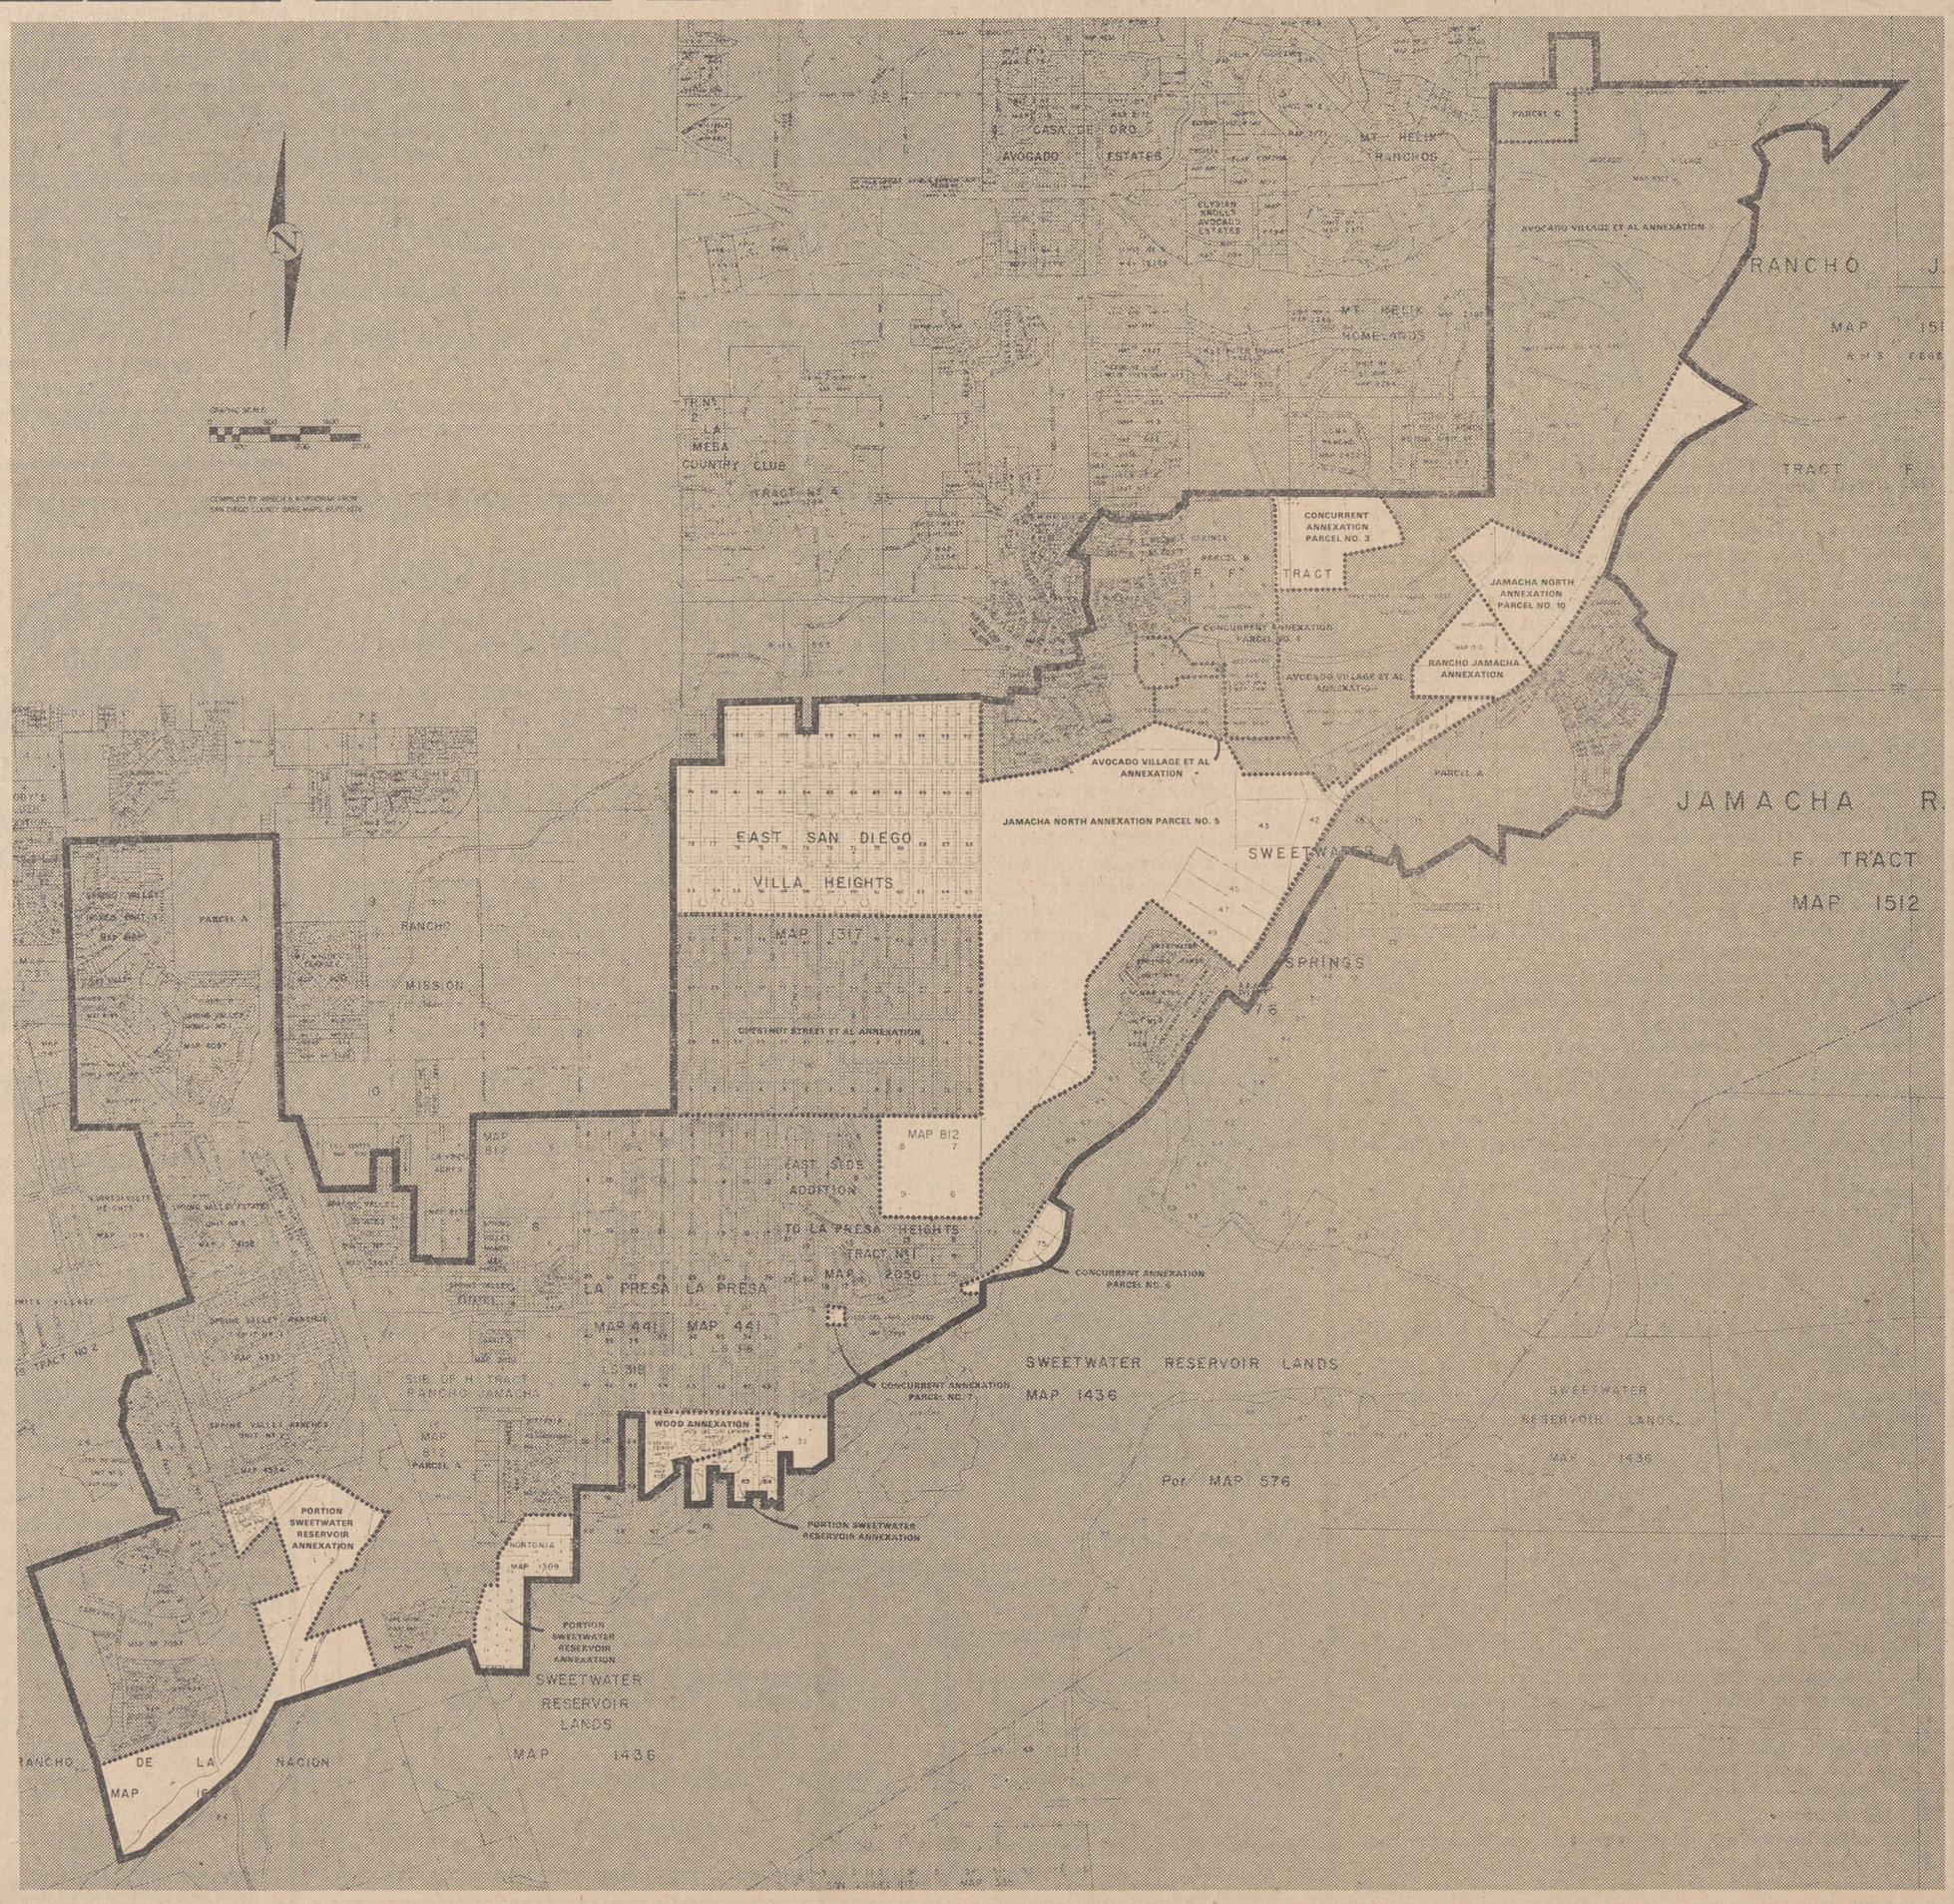

From then on, it was a rise to stardom and a series of hit records ranging from "You Made Me So Happy," "Bring It On Home" and "Down Here on the Ground" to his Grammy award single "Natural Man."

Artist/Lecture Series

Moira Roth, an assistant professor at UCSD, will speak on "The Aesthetic of Indifference: American Art of the 50's" at 10:45 a.m. Tuesday in Copley Auditorium.

The program is the first in a new "Meet the Masters" series.

NOTICE OF INTENT TO ANNEX PROPERTY TO THE SPRING VALLEY FIRE PROTECTION DISTRICT ZONE I

Resolution No. 76-15

Resolution Initiating Proceedings For Annexation Of Territory to Special Fire Protection Zone

On motion of Director Allen, seconded by Director McPherson, the following resolution is adopted:

WHEREAS, pursuant to provisions of the District Reorganization Act of 1965 (Government Code Section 56000 et seq.) this district recently annexed certain territory of the Otay Municipal Water District; and

WHEREAS, pursuant to Chapter 12 (commencing with Section 13991), Part 2.7, Division 12 of the Health and Safety Code this district has established a special fire protection zone for the purposes of levying a tax to pay hydrant rental charges and related costs; and

WHEREAS, public interest and necessity demand the annexation of a portion of the Otay Municipal Water District territory recently annexed as aforesaid, for the reasons that a hydrant rental charge has been placed upon each and every hydrant in that portion of the Spring Valley Fire Protection District supplied by the Otay Municipal Water District, and the Board of Directors feels that this charge should be borne by those benefiting directly from the hydrants; NOW THEREFORE

IT IS RESOLVED, ORDERED AND DETERMINED that pursuant to Health and Safety Code Section 13991 et seq. this board proposes to annex to this district's special fire protection zone a portion of the territory of the Otay Municipal Water District which was recently annexed to this district as aforesaid, the boundaries of said portion which are shown on attached map (grey area on map above within heavy blue lines is already within the Spring Valley Fire Protection District Zone I), and the legal description is on file in fire district's office.

IT IS FURTHER RESOLVED AND ORDERED that a public hearing on the question of the annexation of the above-described territory to the special fire protection zone as aforesaid will be at 7:30 o'clock P.M., on October 28, 1976, at 905 Gillespie Drive, Spring Valley, California. Any person interested, at or before the hearing, may file with the district board a written objection to the proposed annexation. At the hearing the district board will hear and determine all protests and objections.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that the Clerk of this Board cause notice of the aforementioned hearing to be published and posted pursuant to the requirements of Health and Safety Code Section 13394.

the Historical Society but she is geared up to work for the Bancroft Park.

Where will the money come from?

According to Ketell there is more than $200,000 in the fund which developers must now contribute to for parks. There is $150,000 due next year in Housing and Urban Development (HUD) funds and the Bancroft Park should be eligible for it, he says. The county has some $500,000 to spend on parks and some of that could be obtained he says.

Ketell says the 10-acre site is owned by Dr. James Dempsey and is available for $150,000 — or $15,000 an acre. Mortgages on the property total $91,145,000. The county could pay $50,000 down and pay the balance later, Ketell says.

He notes that a syndicate, through local realtor Chet Smith, sold two nearby acres for $50,000 an acre. And a builder paid $20,000 an acre for some land about one block north and east of the park site.

If the park becomes a reality, an upkeep district will maintain it.

White Collar Crime

Businesses Exploit Man's Basic Wants

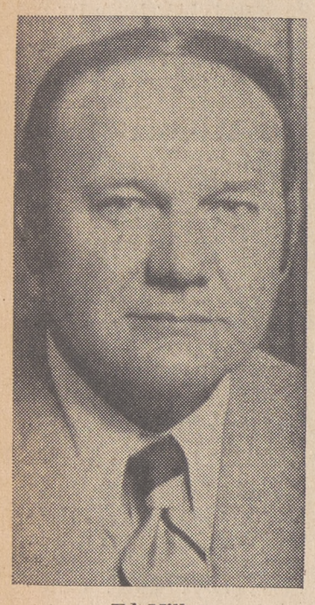

Fourth in a Series

By Ed Miller
County District Attorney

Psychologists agree that eight common denominators or basic wants exist for people. An appeal to any one of these is most likely to trigger action. Hence, they are played upon by con artists.

One of the eight denominators is the desire for self improvement, to better one's economic or social position. Trade schools sometimes fill that desire.

Good, even prestigious trade schools can be found. They

Ed Miller
District Attorney

graduate people particularly qualified to earn a living in their specialty trade.

Trade Schools

Many trade schools, however, are organized to victimize persons with little schooling who desperately desire to enhance their economic opportunities.

These people fall easy prey to a sales pitch promising the graduate a job is such industries as computer programming, airline mechanics, airline hostesses, over-the-road trucking, U. S. Civil Service and a host of other occupations.

A typical classified ad for this type of school might read, "Over-the-Road Semi Drivers Needed. Earn $18,000 a Year!"

The ad, though in the Help Wanted section, is a sales presentation for a truck driving school. After enrolling, the student finds — the training is inadequate, there are no dormitories and post graduation jobs are no easier to find than before they attended the school.

Other trade schools are designed to earn tuition money for the operation and, in addition, provide the "school" with a no-cost source of profitable labor.

Typical of this ilk are beauty schools. High school graduates are solicited to enroll to learn the high-paying profession. Students pay tuition and cost of the basic tools of the trade. Seldom do the beauty schools provide dormitories or extracurricular activities. Courses are taught with students working on customers under supervision of teachers.

Actually, the beauty school could enroll the student, provide free tuition, housing and food and still make a profit on the charges made to customers.

Equally fraudulent is the high school diploma mill. Frequently, tuition is expensive, and in terms of academic accreditation the diploma may not be worth the paper on which it is printed.

In California, trade schools operated for profit must be licensed by the State. Before enrolling, the consumer should check with that Department. Also, the consumer should check with the local Board of Education to see what programs and vocational courses are available through the public school system.

Dance Studios

The need to feel attractive to the opposite sex is another of the eight basic wants common to all people and is played upon by con men.

Unethical dance studios, for instance, set their sights on widows, widowers and elderly people who are likely to be lonesome for companionship. They are told they can make new acquaintances, meet new friends and become the life of the party by learning to dance. All of these things will happen at weekly dance parties sponsored by the school for its patrons.

The consumer is given low cost "come-on" lessons, then "tested" to determine aptitude. Regardless of the results of the tests, the consumers are told they have shown such promise that they qualify for a scholarship discount on the regular two-year course which still commands a sizeable fee.

One woman "bought" this story so often that she eventually spent more than $30,000 on dance lessons for which she would have had to live to age 100 to complete.

New laws regulating the dance studio business were enacted recently to eliminate certain fraudulent practices. A written agreement for dancing lessons is now required and a copy must be given to the customer.

"Lifetime" contracts have been outlawed and the law now prohibits dance studio contracts exceeding $2,500 or payments on such contracts running more than two years from the date the contract is signed.

Body Builders

Cut from the same cloth are health clubs.

These organizations paint a glorious picture of a rejuvenated you — slim, trim and radiating sex appeal.

Contracts for membership in health studios, figure reducing salons, gymnasiums and body building or exercising studios have been subject also to recent legislation. These contracts must be in writing also with a copy provided to the customer.

As in a dancing contract, a health studio contract cannot be for the lifetime of the customer and payments on health contracts cannot extend beyond two years from the date of the contract signing.

No health contract may exceed $500 and services may not extend over seven years.

Also, the agreed upon service must begin within six months from the signing date.

Disability of the customer relieves him of payment on the contract for services not yet rendered and any contract entered into as a result of fraud or misleading information or representations is not enforceable.

The consumer faced with these want-fulfilling approaches should use common sense. Schools, studios and clubs make their money from enrollments. When a facility offers big "bargain" enrollment incentives, alarm bells should go off in the consumer's ears. Salesmen are likely to be misrepresenting facts in their drive for income.

A copy of a booklet alerting consumers to all types of con games and white-collar scheme games and white-collar schemes can be obtained free by writing: Buyer Beware, c/o District Attorney Ed Miller, 220, W. Broadway, San Diego, 92101.

CenFed Merger Group in Top 10

One of the 20 largest savings and loan institutions in California and one of the 100 largest in the nation has been created by the merger of Central Federal Savings and Loan Assn. and N. Hollywood Federal Savings and Loan Assn.

Approved by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, the merger increases to more than $640 million the combined total assets of the two institutions, with Central Federal accounting for $427 million of this amount and N. Hollywood Federal $216.

Central Federal president Fred C. Stalder remains in that post and also will serve as chief executive officer of the new institution.

Corporate headquarters of the association will be maintained in the new 22-story Central Federal Tower in downtown San Diego.

IRS TAX ANSWERS?

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local U.S. Internal Revenue Service office and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The questions are those most frequently asked IRS.

Q. I am a junior in college working toward a bachelor's degree, and have received a scholarship. Is the amount of the scholarship part of my income?

A. Since you are a degree candidate, a scholarship, if granted principally to further your education and training, is not considered part of your gross income. However, if it is given for your past, present, or future services, or to permit you to carry on studies or research chiefly for the grantor's benefit, the payment is considered income.

There are certain other limitations when you are not a degree candidate. For more detailed information, see IRS Publication 520, Tax Information for American Scholars in the U. S. and Abroad.

Q. Nearly a month ago I was laid off from my construction job. In looking for employment, I've had to travel to other cities and even another state. Are my job-hunting expenses deductible?

A. Expenses of those seeking a new job in the same trade or business, are deductible. These may include the cost of transportation, provided the primary purpose of the trip is to find a job, and employment agency fees.

However, you may not deduct job-hunting expenses if you are looking for work in a new trade or business.

If you are seeking your first job, the expenses are not deductible even if you find employment, unless they were incurred before April 21, 1975. In addition, if you are unemployed for a significant period of time, job-hunting expenses are not deductible. For a more detailed explanation, see IRS Publication 529, Miscellaneous Deductions and Credits, available at local IRS offices.

Q. I recently took the CPA exam. Can I deduct the cost of the exam?

A. Fees paid for professional accreditation, such as for a CPA or bar examination, are not deductible.

License fees, such as medical, dental, or real estate licenses, paid yearly in your trade or business to state or local governments, however, are deductible.

$400 Income Tax Credit For Low Income Earners

Although the 1976 federal income tax filing season is past, it's not too late for certain Southern Californians with low incomes to file a 1975 tax return and qualify for up to $400 from the Internal Revenue Service.

The $400 payment is the maximum provided under an "Earned Income Credit established by Congress. The credit can only be paid to persons who file income tax returns, even though they were not otherwise required to file because their earning for 1975 were so low.

So far this year 376,279 Southern California residents have claimed the Earned Income Credit for 1975. They have received a total of $77,195,804. — an average of more than $205 per return.

The IRS says other qualifying persons can also receive government checks, but first they have to file a tax return. As long as no taxes are due, there is no penalty for filing after April 15.

To qualify for the credit, workers must have received less than $8,000 in total income from all sources in 1975 — including wages, salary, tips and other employee compensations.

Additionally, they must have paid more than half the cost of maintaining a home in the U.S. for themselves and at least one dependent child for the entire year. The dependent child must have been younger than 19 years or a full-time student.

Those qualifying for the credit who had total income of $4,000 or less will receive a check for ten per cent of their earned income, up to maximum of $400. The amount of the credit is reduced when income from all sources runs between $4,000 and $8,000.

Persons who believe they may qualify for the credit, but who haven't filed an income tax return for 1975, should check with their nearest Internal Revenue Service office.

Blood Bank Tour Offered Donors

The latest behind-the-scene tour is being given at the San Diego Blood Bank, 5th and Upas, in the Hillcrest area. Donors are invited to visit the labs Monday through Friday, at 10 a.m. and 2:30 p.m.

The Processing Lab includes blood typing on the autoanalyzer and testing for syphilis, rare antibodies and hepatitis.

A tour through the Component Lab shows how whole blood is fractionated into specific components such as packed red cells, plasma and platelets.

"Donors who have been called in because their specific blood type is needed realize why when they see the low blood supply in the Community Refrigerator," says Del Roberts, Community Relations Coordinator. "The Blood Bank needs 300 volunteer donors each day in order to meet the demand."

Anyone between the ages of 17 thru 65 and in good health can donate either at the San Diego Blood Bank, or on one of the bloodmobiles in their area.
